

The role of the Board of Trustees of Hospice at Home West Cumbria

- To lead Hospice at Home West Cumbria, establish its Vision, Mission and Values and ensure it has a clear purpose.
- To develop overall strategies to achieve the Hospice's aims.
- To utilise assets and resources for charitable purposes in line with its governing document.
- To provide the highest quality of care, balanced with the effective, efficient and economic use of these resources and assets.
- To ensure compliance with charitable and company law.
- To ensure that the Board performs effectively.
- To monitor the performance of the charity.
- To uphold the reputation of the organisation.

The most important job of the Board is to lead the Hospice. The Board is concerned with direction, policy and strategy. The management of the Hospice is delegated to paid professional staff who report progress back to the Board. The Board must ensure that these staff have adequate resources to undertake this.
